

INJURED WIFE TARS AND FEATHERS RIVAL

Mrs. Strong Caught Miss Chamberlain in Covered Bridge and Had Revenge.

MARGARETVILLE, N. Y., Nov. 23.—Miss Lillian Chamberlain, a young woman, was caught by Mrs. E. O. Strong, wife of a railroad engineer, and given a coat of tar and feathers. Mrs. Strong alleges the girl has been unfaithful to her husband.

Mrs. Chamberlain is the proprietress of a dressmaking establishment, and there has been gossip all summer concerning her and the engineer.

Mrs. Strong watched the Chamberlain home, and says she caught her husband going there.

The case was on trial at Roxbury yesterday, the evidence showing that Miss Chamberlain had passed through a dark, covered bridge when she was accosted by Mrs. Strong. The latter seized her and put her in the coat of tar and feathers. Mrs. Chamberlain down with her knee while she called an accomplice from the bushes near by.

The women partly tore the clothing of the prostrate one and applied tar to her body and limbs. A night watchman helped the victim home.

Mrs. Strong waived examination, and was held for the Grand Jury. Public sentiment favors Mrs. Strong, whose husband has advertised that he will have nothing more to do with her.

$500,000 TO HOSPITAL FROM GUGGENHEIM.

Generous Offer Is in Addition to Gift of $60,000 He Had Collected.

At the annual meeting of the Board of Directors of Sydenham Hospital, in East One Hundred and Sixteenth street, held last night, Isaac Guggenheim, of No. 703 Fifth avenue, announced that he would erect for the institution a $500,000 new building if the board would guarantee to him that they would secure for the hospital an annual income of $50,000.

After making this offer, Mr. Guggenheim presented to the directors $50,000 which he had collected within the last month to pay the expenses of the institution. Of this amount, Mr. Guggenheim advanced $10,000. That the income stipulated by Mr. Guggenheim would be raised was the opinion of the members of the board. The board then voted to accept the offer, and immediate steps were made to obtain the amount. It is hoped that within a year the hospital building would be assured.

STANDARD'S PIPE LINE ATTACKED

Ohio Begins Suit to Open Service to All Shippers at Reasonable Rates.

FINDLAY, O., Nov. 23.—The Buckeye Pipe Line Company was made defendant in a suit filed in the Circuit Court here yesterday by William L. David, proprietor of Hancock County, and George H. Phelps, who had just returned from the Attorney-General's office. The State of Ohio is the plaintiff.

The Pipe Line Company is organized under the laws of Ohio with a capital stock of $10,000,000 and is empowered to transport and store petroleum by means of pipes. The petition charges that ever since its organization in 1886 it has been a member of an illegal combination known as the Standard Oil Trust. It operates in six counties in Northwest Ohio.

An alternative writ of mandamus is asked for and that the defendant provide for the public equal and just facilities and transportation in Ohio and fix a schedule of rates. The petition is signed by Wade H. Ellis, Attorney-General.

PUT WEALTH ASIDE FOR LIFE OF MISER

Until His Death "Mr. Smith's" Customers at Book Store Thought Him Poor.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Nov. 23.—The death of "Mr. Smith," a miser, as he was supposed to be, has revealed a romantic story.

"Mr. Smith" was for many years the proprietor of a book store on William street. His books were old and it is said he rarely sold one. He had no intimate friends and never talked about himself. While taking a vapor bath a few days ago the lamp of alcohol exploded and burned him so severely that he died at the Emergency Hospital.

Since his death it has developed that he was a man of considerable wealth, being a director in several commercial institutions in New York and Baltimore. His real name was George Weston Sawyer, Jr. He was born in Nashua, N. H., sixty-eight years ago, and was the son of Justice Sawyer, of the Supreme Bench of New Hampshire. He was a member of the New Hampshire bar, but had seen little service in his family, with the exception of a sister, Mrs. E. H. Hubbard, of Nashua, O., who was known to his whereabouts. She is now in the city to have the remains sent to the old home in Nashua.

MANY LIVES LOST IN HEAVY STORMS

Six Drowned Outside Toronto Harbor and Four Others in Lake Michigan.

TORONTO, Nov. 23.—The steam barge Revolution from Erie, Pa., to Toronto, was wrecked yesterday in heavy seas just outside the harbor here and sank. The crew, under the command of Capt. Sullivan, put off in two boats. One, containing five persons, reached the shore safely, while the second was swamped, her six occupants being drowned.

They were: John Harrison, Deseronto, chief engineer; Thomas Toppin, Deseronto, assistant engineer; Dave White, Prescott, deck hand; Harry Gregory, Port Colborne, fireman; John Burns, Port Colborne; Nelson, Christiana, Norway.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 23.—Four men were caught by Thursday night's storm on the crib work of the new breakwater at the entrance to Holland Harbor, on Lake Michigan, and drowned. The dead are: Tom Bennett, of Muskegon, contractor for the crib work; George Jacobson, of Holland; Alvin Nelson, of Muskegon; and Martin Woodward, of Fenville.

When the life-saving crew succeeded in reaching the crib today the dead bodies of Bennett, Jacobson and Nelson were found in a pocket of the crib. The body of Woodward had been washed away.

Winter Overcoats and Suits for Men at $15

It was a conqueror of worlds who said: "Force without intelligence is nothing."

Of what benefit would be the strength and resources of a tailoring organization unless guided by intelligence and directed by a purpose? We are inclined to believe the benefits would be of a very negligible quality.

On the other hand, if these forces are concentrated and directed, as they are with us—then and only then is it possible to transcend beyond the commonplace and the dead level of mediocrity. As an instance of what great work may be accomplished under such conditions we present our series of $15 Winter Suits and Overcoats.

The overcoats at $15 are fashioned in shaped back Chestfields of light gray fabrics, three-quarter models of black Tibets, also medium length and box models of Kerseys, Meltons and Velours.

The Suits at $15 take form in a series of single and double breasted models of conventional or radical styles, medium length and long coats, with deep centre vents or without vents. Fashioned of black Tibets and fancy velour finished Cassimeres in monotonous, stripes and overplaids.

Other Winter Overcoats and Suits Up to $50.

ESCAPED CONVICT IS PENNED IN A SWAMP.

Fugitive in Maine Wilderness Trying to Flee From Guard to Canada.

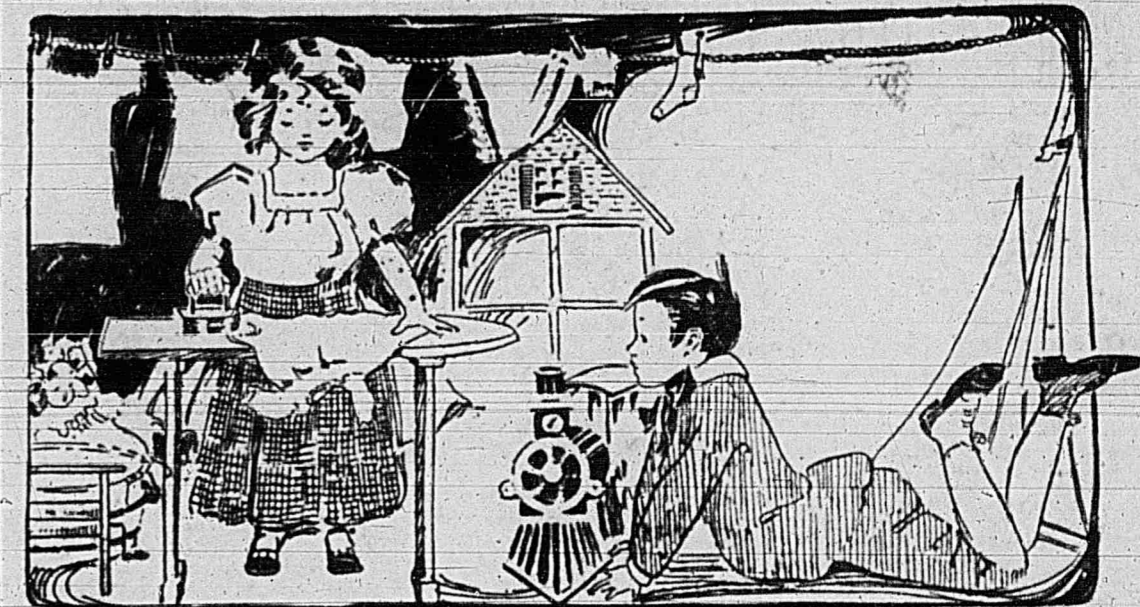

(Special to The Evening World.) BANGOR, Me., Nov. 23.—Minot St. Clair Francis, the escaped convict, is thought to be hiding in a swamp twenty miles from here, an almost inaccessible region, within four miles of the Seaport Railroad, which line it is supposed he is trying to reach in order to get to Canada.

Being a strong man, well used to hardship, he may escape through the woods on foot to the upper Kennebec. To keep him prisoner in the swamp, where he is now concealed, is the aim of the authorities.

Our Classification Our Convict's Color.

HURRAH! Boys and Girls--The Toy Store Is Celebrating

SATURDAY is "play-day," and there is no place where you can see so much, tomorrow, as in the new Wanamaker Toy Store.

It's a perfect circus. Two whole blocks long—occupying the Fourth avenue side of the Basements of BOTH buildings.

Here is everything for boys, from a donkey-cart to the finest and hand-drawn automobile ever built for a boy's use.

Here is everything for girls, from a kitchen range to the most beautiful Doll Bride, with her entire trousseau.

There are rocking horses, sleds, games, billiard tables, woolly animals, rubber toys, magic lanterns—EVERYTHING you can think of, and hundreds more.

But the most fun tomorrow, will be in seeing the TOYS THAT DO THINGS—the most marvellous mechanical pieces that genius has ever contrived. See the wonder of animals that are all but ALIVE—

Here is a Cat that walks, and its eyes glow with real fiery light. Here is a Chicken that walks along and lays eggs as it walks.

Here is a Peacock that struts proudly about as it opens and closes its magnificent tail. Here is a Musical Rose Bush which unfolds a magnificent rose with a little chill in center.

Here is a Jabbering Monkey on a ladder, another Monkey playing tricks with a clown. There is a great life-size Mechanical Lion.

Among the pieces not mechanical are life-size figures of the Captain and Mrs. Katzenjammer, the Policeman, and others.

Of course there is almost unlimited variety of mechanical railroad trains, automobiles, fire engines and the like.

Now is the time to thoroughly enjoy all these things before the rush of buying begins. Bring the children; let them pick out the things that they want to write to Santa Claus about.
